Tax saving strategies prior to 1 July 2023

A strategy often used to reduce taxable income (and, in turn, tax payable) in an income year is to bring forward any expected or planned deductible expenditure from a later income year. However, any individuals with potentially reduced income for the 2023 tax season may want to instead consider deferring any deductible expenditure (if possible).

Resident taxable income thresholds for the 2022/23 income year

Tax Payable¹

0 – $18,200	Nil
$18,201 – $45,000	19% of excess over $18,200
$45,001 – $120,000	$5,092 + 32.5% of excess over $45,000
$120,001 – $180,000	$29,467 + 37% of excess over $120,000
$180,001 and over	$51,667 + 45% of excess over $180,000

1. The Medicare levy of 2% generally applies in addition to these rates.

Common claims made by individuals

The following outlines common types of deductible expenses claimed by individual taxpayers, such as employees and rental property owners, and some strategies for increasing their deductions for the 2023 income year.

1. Depreciating assets costing $300 or less

Salary and wage earners and rental property owners will generally be entitled to an immediate deduction for certain income-producing assets costing $300 or less that are purchased before 1 July 2023.

Some purchases you may consider include:

- tools of trade;
- electronic tablets;

- calculators or electronic organisers;
- software;
- books and trade journals;
- stationery; and
- briefcases/luggage or suitcases.

2. Clothing expenses

Individuals may pay for work-related clothing expenses before 1 July 2023, such as:

- compulsory (or non-compulsory and registered) uniforms, and occupation specific and protective clothing; and
- other associated expenses such as dry-cleaning, laundry and repair expenses.

3. Self-education expenses

Employees may prepay self-education items before 1 July 2023, such as:

- ◆ course fees (but not HELP repayments or student contribution amounts), student union fees, and tutorial fees; and
- ◆ interest on borrowings used to pay for any deductible self-education expenses.

They may also bring forward purchases of stationery and text books (i.e., those that are not required to be depreciated).

4. Other work-related expenses

Employees may also prepay any of the following expenses before 1 July 2023:

- Union fees.
- Subscriptions to trade, professional or business associations.
- Seminars and conferences.
- Income protection insurance (excluding death and total/permanent disability).
- Magazine and professional journal subscriptions.

Note: If prepaying any of the above expenses before 1 July 2023, ensure that any services being paid for will be provided within a 12-month period that ends before 1 July 2024. Otherwise, the deductions will generally need to be claimed proportionately over the period of the prepayment.

Information Required

You will need to provide us with information to assist in preparing your income tax return. Please check the following and provide any relevant statements, accounts, receipts, etc., to help us prepare your return.

2022/23 Year-end Checklist for Business

Many business clients like to review their tax position before the end of the income year and evaluate any strategies that may be available to legitimately reduce their tax. Traditionally, year-end tax planning for profitable small businesses is based around accelerating deductions and deferring income.

Small Business Entities ('SBEs') – i.e., those with an aggregated turnover of less than $10 million – often have greater tax planning opportunities compared to other businesses, due to certain concessions generally only applying to them. SBEs usually also have the flexibility to pick concessions that suit their circumstances. For 2023/23, many of the SBE concessions are also available to medium-sized businesses ('MSBs'), i.e., businesses with an aggregated turnover of less than $50 million.

The following are common strategies that may be considered for all business taxpayers.

Maximising deductions for non-SBE business taxpayers

Deductions can be maximised for non-SBE business taxpayers by prepaying expenses, accelerating expenditure and/or accruing expenses that have been incurred.

Prepayment strategies

Any part of an expense prepayment relating to the period up to 30 June is generally deductible.

In addition, non-SBE taxpayers may generally claim prepayments in full for expenditure that is:

- ◆ under $1,000;
- ◆ made under a 'contract of service' (e.g., salary and wages); or
- ◆ required to be incurred under law.

Note: Medium-sized businesses ('MSBs') may fully deduct prepayments made before 1 July 2023 (refer below).

Accelerating expenditure (including depreciation deductions)

Accelerating expenditure involves bringing forward expenditure on regular, on-going deductible items.

In fact, this is a useful strategy for any business taxpayer (i.e., including SBEs) because businesses can generally claim deductions for expenses they 'incurred' during 2022/23, even if the expenses have not actually been paid by 30 June 2023.

Examples of accelerated expenditure that may be incurred and claimed as a tax deduction in 2022/23 by a business taxpayer include the following:

- Repairs.
- Maintenance.
- Consumables/spare parts.
- Advertising.
- Fringe benefits. Any benefits to be provided, such as property benefits, could be purchased and provided prior to 1 July 2023.
- Superannuation contributions made to a complying fund, to the extent the contributions are actually made (i.e., they cannot be accrued but must be paid by 30 June 2023).

In addition to accelerating expenditure on business items such as those listed above, for 2022/23, non-SBE businesses may claim the following accelerated depreciation deductions for depreciating assets first used (or installed ready for business use) by 30 June 2023:

- Non-SBEs with an aggregated turnover of (generally) less than $5 billion can fully expense the cost of eligible assets as well as eligible improvements, regardless of cost.

Note: Non-SBEs may choose to opt out of full expensing on an asset-by-asset basis.

- If full expensing does not apply, or an opt-out choice is made, non-SBEs can generally claim the following depreciation deductions (if applicable) for their business assets:
 - Assets costing less than $1,000 may be allocated to a Low Value Pool and depreciated at a rate of 18.75% (in 2023) and 37.5% thereafter.
 - In most other cases, the asset's cost is depreciated over its effective life (as determined by the taxpayer or the ATO).

Accrued expenditure

Business taxpayers (including SBEs) are entitled to a deduction for expenses incurred as at 30 June 2023, even if they have not yet been paid.

Examples of expenses that may be accrued and claimed as a tax deduction in 2022/23 include:

- ◆ salary or wages and bonuses accrued for the number of days that employees have worked but have not been paid as at 30 June 2023;
- ◆ accrued interest outstanding on a business loan that has not been paid;
- ◆ commission payments owing to employees or other external parties;
- ◆ the fringe benefits tax ('FBT') instalment for the June 2023 quarter, if it is due but not payable until July 2023; and
- ◆ directors' fees payable as at 30 June 2023, where the company is definitively committed to the payment.

Maximising deductions for SBE taxpayers

Deductions can be maximised for SBE taxpayers by accelerating expenditure and/or prepaying deductible business expenses (and also by accruing expenditure – refer above).

Accelerating depreciation expenditure

In addition to accelerating expenditure on various business items (refer above), for 2022/23, SBE taxpayers that use the simplified SBE depreciation rules may claim the following deductions in relation to depreciating assets:

- A full deduction for the cost of eligible assets first used or installed ready for business use by 30 June 2023 (as well as eligible improvements), regardless of cost.

Note: SBE taxpayers that use the simplified SBE depreciation rules cannot directly opt out of fully expensing depreciating assets. Instead, they will need to firstly opt out of the simplified SBE depreciation rules entirely, and then opt out of full expensing on an asset-by-asset basis.

- The SBE closing pool balance (before current year deductions), if any, will be fully claimed in the 2023 income year.

Note: SBE taxpayers using the simplified SBE depreciation rules cannot opt out of full expensing with regards to their SBE general pool (i.e., even if they opt out of the simplified SBE depreciation rules).

If appropriate, SBE taxpayers should consider purchasing and using (or installing ready for use) these items by 30 June 2023.

Prepayment strategies (SBEs and MSBs)

SBEs and medium-sized businesses ('MSBs') that make prepayments before 1 July 2023 can choose to claim a full deduction in the year of payment (i.e., in 2022/23), if they cover a period of no more than 12 months (ending before 1 July 2024).

Otherwise, the prepayment rules are the same as for non-SBE taxpayers.

The kinds of expenses that may be prepaid include:

- Rent on business premises or equipment.
- Lease payments on business items such as cars and office equipment.
- Interest – check with your financier whether it is possible to prepay up to 12 months interest in advance.
- Business trips.
- Training courses that run from 1 July 2023.
- Business subscriptions.
